Name of the Website:
L10

About L10:
The website will consist of a fan-page about Lionel Messi, the greatest soccer player of all time. The target audience will be people who love Messi and want to know everything about him. It will include information about his career, news, an image gallery, real-time stats, and more. I will be using technologies such as HTML, CSS, Tailwind and JavaScript. Also, for the image gallery I will be using a JavaScript library called lightGallery.js.

Internal webpages:
Home, Bio, News, Career, Meet-and-greet Giveaway

Data Stored:
I will be storing user data for the Meet-and-greet giveaway. The users will input their information using a form, and the data will be stored in a database. Then, a random user will be selected as the winner.

Also, I will try to get data from an API to get the upcoming games of Inter Miami and the argentinian national team.
